against bonds, as well as of the contribution to the market through the negotiation of the sterling loan of 2800,660 for the Camden and Amboy Railway Company, foreign exchange was utterly demoralized, cable transfers being made at the sixteenth below 169. A continuance of the influences now operating upon the market would result, ery shortly, in turning exchange in our favor, when we should witness the curious spectacle of gold importations to a country which has been steadily shipping gold for the past eight years. The following was the range of rates to-day, but the quo-tations are merely nominal:—Sterling, sixty days, commercial, 108 a 108%; good to prime bank-ers', 108% a 108%; short sight, 109 a 109%; Paris, sixty days, 5.22 % a 5.17 %; short sight, 5.17 % a 5.16 %; Antwerp, 5.22 % a 5.18 %; Switzerland, 5.22 % a 5.18 %; erg, 85½ a 85%; Amsterdam, 40% a 40%; Frankfort, 40% a 40%; Bremen, 78 a 78%; Prussian baiers, 70% a 71%.

The influence of the foreign demand for our bonds was further reflected in the price of gold, which destined one-half per cent during the day, after a most determined and obstinate fight on the part of the "bulla" and of those who were long at 131, which, from the experience of the Treasury and Cabinet agitation, was supposed to be the figure at which it would touch bottom, for some time to come at least. But the avaianche of exchange bills was too much price yielded very slowly and only after several inediate reactions. The range of price was as

The London Economist of the 6th says:—
With a siight relapse to let out speculative buyers of United States bonds the rise which followed the passing by the House of Representatives of the bill having reference to the payment of the public debt in gold has been well maintained, and a further rise has taken place on its adoption by Congress: and on the publication of the telegram from Philiadelphia, which states that in the inaugural address at the installation of President Grant "the strongly supporte payment of the United States debt in gold and the early resumption of specie payments." The effect upon the 10-40 bonds has, of course, been less, as the act authoring their issue expressly states that they are redeemable in gold. There have been considerable fluctuations in Atlantic and Great Western securities, first and second inortigage bonds, which are offered without meeting any buyers. A fall of between one and two per cent followed the receipt of private telegrams confirming the resignation of Mr. Stebbins, the president of the company. The 1862 and 1865 bonds are both one dollar better, the 10-40's fractionally higher, and Atlantic bonds in rather better request. The 5-20's closed at 83% a 83%; do., 1865, 81%.

The Boston Advertiser, under date of Tuesday evening, gives the following respecting financial evening, gives the following respecting financial affairs in that city:—

Continued closeness prevails in the money market, the supply of available funds steadily failing off, while the demand is rather increasing the daily applications at the banks, added to those which have laid over from time to time, making quite a formidable array, considering the limited resources of the banks. The banks are, however, doing all they can to keep their depositors along, and, by a judicious division of the funds at their disposal, are generally able to meet reasonable expectations, although many of their customers have to submit to a reduction of the amounts applied for. Borrowers, as a rule, find money more accessible outside than at the banks, and private capitalists are now doing a good business at high rates. Rates still hold firm, depositors paying from 7 to 8 per cent and outside paper from 8 to 10. Call loans are quoted at 7 to 8 per cent on government collaterals, with but little doing.

The bank statement reflects the present condition of affairs, and can scarcely be regarded as otherwise than unfavorable. Individual deposits have failen off $1,443,965, and balances of other banks have decreased $225,737. Legal tenders have decreased $215,757. Legal tenders have decreased $215,757.

Hanging of Two Negroom in Mobile—They Confees Their Guilt and Expect to Go Straight to Heaven.

Hanging of Two Negrees in Mobile—They Confess Their Guilt and Expect to Go Straight to Heaven.

[From the Mobile Evening News, March 12]
The negroes Lewis Tomin and Isaac Johnson who were convected at the November term of the City Court for the murder of Mr. Archie McLaughlin, on the 22d of October last, this morning suffered the extreme pensity of the law and explaied their crime on the gallows. The circumsiances of the murder are fresh in the minds of our people, Mr. McLaughlin on his way home, by Lewis Tomin, assisted by Isaac Johnson, Isael Beverly and Thomas Burns, all negroes, who were arrested, the two former sentenced to death and the latter to the penitentiary for life. Since then two other negroes, Aleck Mobiley and Wesley Sanisberry, have been arrested for being parties to the crime. The former turned State's evidence and the latter is being tried to-day in the City Court. Tomin and Johnson belonged to a regularity organized gang, who invested the outskirts and lived by robbery and piunder. Only a few days before the murder of McLaughin they had committed an assault on an old white woman over sixty years of age.

Tomini is a thick-set, chunky, coal black negro, about twenty-one years of age, and Johnson a mulatto, about eighteen years oid. They were sentenced to be hauged on the 15th of January last, but were respited till the present time by the Governor.

In the condemned cell the prisoners were surrounded by a large number of the sisters of the church and Elder strong, praying and sunjug. They appeared perfectly resigned to their fate, acknowledged their galit and said they were ready and willing to die; that they had experienced religion, however, they felt that they were doomed to religion through kind offices of the sisters of the clurch, who had attented faithfully to their spiritual wellare, they had been saved. They laughed and conversed pleasantly and appeared anxious for the arrival of the time of execution, saying there was nothing for them to hope for here below, but muon above. Tonin sa present, and during the execution occupied places near the scaffold.

A short time after eleven o'clock the condemned were brought out of their cells to be shrouded and bound. Both negroes entered the room langhing, pulled off their coats and shoes and directed the jailor to hand them to Sam Boyd, one of the prisoners; they then, without any assistance, put on their robes, at the same time making humorous aliusions to the fit, Tomlin remarking, "mine fits buily and is nice enough for a wedding gown."

Tomlin asked Mr. Lazo for a cigar, which he smoked with great coolness, saying it would be his last. When his hands were being tied ine said, "tie me tight, St. Joe, and pray dont go to heil, but go to heaven." Johnson was very cool and collected, but did not appear quite so hardened as Tomlin.

AT THE GALLOWS.

to heaven." Johnson was very cool and collected, but the days, and the heaven are condemned march firmly to the scaffold, followed by Eider Strong and the sisters of the church, all singing and praying. They mounted the scaffold and took their possition on the trap, accompanied by Sheriff Granger and Elder Strong.

After the singing of a hymn by the sisters of the church, who stood in front of the scaffold. Sheriff Granger read the sentence of the Court. During its reading founds cried out to a boy in a tree near by. "You had better be praying."

Tomilin, in a loud and firm voice, said:—Friends, one and all, white and black, men and boys, I am going. I have made my peace with tiod and my soul is at peace, and He has told me to come here with a willing mind; I am going to lieaves, and I want all of you to come there; there is plantly of coun for all; I am going of the man would the time, is not guilty: I would not have been killed; Wesing Saultherr, too lary for that, and I went out "staging;" this is not the first prober of reading the two first of the court of the man going.

After Tomlin had ceased speaking Johnson said:—My friends, I am going and I am ready to go, and I want you all tog trandy and follow me, for I am going and I want you all tog trandy and follow me, for I am going tog tranger of the probable over the propes of robbing somebody.

The men then knelt in prayer with Elder Strong, When the cap was pulled over their eyes they shouted "Good by," Tomin saying in a loud and firm voice, "God nas answered my prayers; there is a hell to avoid and an heaven to gain."

The rope was cut at half-past eleven by means of a tronking convenient on the safe of eace of the cap.

THE EXECUTION.

The rope was cut at half-past eleven by means of a drop-knile concealed on the side of one of the uprights. The trap felt, and the unfortunate men were daugling in the air. Johnson died easily and without a struggle, but not so with fomlin, who writhed for quite a manute. When the drop fell an attempt at a cheer was made by the crowd. Fifteen minutes afterwards the bodies were cut down and pronounced dead by the surgeon. It was found that their necks had not been broken, the rope slipping too far in the rear of the neck to accomplish dislocation.

THE PEACH CROP IN NORTH CAROLINA. CURRITUCE COUNTY, Peb. 15, 1869.

CURRITUCE COUNTY, Feb. 1a, 1859.

The peach crop having become of late years one of great importance, and as this is the year in which all peach growers are expecting a crop, it will be of interest to them as well as the peach consumers to hear how the late severe spell of cold has affected crops in the peach growing sections throughout the country. Since the weather has moderated I have made a careful examination of the buds or biossoms, and find that my Troth's Early and Early Tillouson are nearly all killed, while my Hale's Early, Early York and Early Crawford are not injured. I wish some able scholar would inform the peach growing fraternity what the cause of this is. The varieties are all planted side by side and very intie difference can be marked as to forwardness of the buds. My neighbors' trees are not injured in the least. I am informed by reliable gentlemen that the crops in the veinity of Norfoik, Wa, stong the James river and further north, fre entirely killed; but we nope that it is not 50 disastrous as reported. The mercury fell as low as seventeen degrees Pahrenheit.
